Activity 1

Your task is to construct an Ancient Egyptian artefact. You could make a death mask, Canopic jar, pyramid, sarcophagus, shaduf, bracelets, amulets, and necklaces to name but a few. So long as it is Ancient Egyptian in style, it will be suitable. We will display these in our very own Meridian Ancient Egyptian museum, which your parents can visit, at the end of this term.

Or

The Ancient Egyptians wore lucky charms called amulets. The charms were meant to protect the wearer from evil spirits and to bring good luck. One of the most popular amulets was the eye of the god Horus. Children wore amulets shaped like fish to protect them from drowning in the River Nile.
